COMMISSIONERS' COURT IN REGULAR SESSION

The Commissioners' Court of Medina County met in regular session at 10 a. m. Tuesday, November 12, with all members present. The following business was transacted:

The Court opened sealed bids for the construction and moving of the San Geronimo bridge on the Castroville-Riomedina Road. As the bids were considered prohibitively high, all were rejected by the Court. The Court then ordered that the County Engineer contact the W. P. A. district offices in San Antonio and obtain from them the balance remaining in the County blanket fund for WPA 1940 work with a view of an agreed participation in these funds for all Commissioners, including for Precinct No. 2 a project for the San Geronimo bridge reconstruction.

The results of the general election were canvassed by the Court and ordered entered in the County Clerk's record of election returns. The County Clerk was also ordered to determine the amount due and make payment to each of the election judges and clerks at the polls on election day, November 5th.

The Court ordered that the County Treasurer be instructed to withhold monthly payments of $10.00 as pauper aid to Herman Faseler, pending investigation by the Old Age Assistance representative and until further orders of the Court.

In routine business, the Court received the County Treasurer's warrants for the third quarter of the year, also his quarterly report, which were examined and approved. Various County bills and Commissioners' vouchers were examined, approved and ordered paid.

John Martin, night watchman of Hondo, presented an application, requesting that Medina County contribute toward his pay for watching County offices now located in town. After due consideration, the Court voted unanimously to pay $1.00 per month for each office while it is occupied by a county official pending completion of the courthouse project.

VISITING SPEAKER AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. George B. Safford of San Antonio will be the speaker at the evening preaching hour at the Baptist Church Sunday. He will speak on a most timely topic. We invite and urge all our members, friends, and visitors to come hear him.

The pastor and wife deeply appreciate the love gifts by members and friends that make it possible for them to attend the Annual Baptist State Convention in Houston this week, Tuesday to Friday noon. We will give the high points of the convention in the service Sunday morning. We hope all who possibly can will attend, especially all of those who have had a part in our attendance as the messengers of our church.

NOV. 28 TO BE OBSERVED FOR THANKSGIVING

A poll of the business houses of Hondo resulted in a majority for observing Thanksgiving on the traditional date, the last Thursday in November. The stores, therefore, will be closed on Thursday, Nov. 28th, instead of the 21st as is observed in some places. We understand the schools of Hondo will observe that Thanksgiving day also.

HOMECOMING CELEBRATION A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Hondo Owls Win Over Del Rio by Score of 20 to 0—Grand Dance Closes Event

THE Hondo High School's second Homecoming Celebration Monday, November 11, 1940, was a gratifying success in every particular and all connected with it are well pleased. To witness the pleasure it afforded the graduates and ex-students brought a thrill of the same to even the casual onlooker, and the spirit of the occasion permeated the entire throng that had gathered—some from distant points. Even the weather-man seemed to smile upon them, for the murky weather of several days previous, which had filled the management with some misgivings, cleared up the night before, and the day was ideal for such a gathering. It was neither too hot nor too cold for comfort. Neither was it dusty nor disagreeably muddy.

By the time of the opening hour a large crowd had gathered, and the commodious high school auditorium was comfortably filled when the Master of Ceremonies and President of the Alumni Association, Dr. O. B. Taylor, called the assemblage to order.

The audience arose and sang the first and last stanzas of "America", and Rev. Milton Falkenberg of the class of 1927 delivered the invocation.

Dr. O. B. Taylor of the class of 1910 made the welcoming address, to which Superintendent J. Gordon Barry, "pinch-hitting" for an absent ex-student, responded. Both spoke in a happy vein.

Miss Evelyn Knopp, class of 1938, rendered a piano solo in her accomplished manner.

This was followed by the Dedication Address by Mr. Irving C. Honegger, surviving member of the two first graduates who constituted the class of 1904. (Mrs. Anna Pluck Barnes and Irving C. Honegger.) The address was in dedication of the new High School gymnasium, and is printed in full elsewhere in this paper.

The address was followed by the Dedication Song by the High School Glee Club, directed by Mrs. C. D. Sadler, and the School Song, "For Hondo's Honor and Glory" by the Glee Club and the audience, and the celebration was duly and officially on.

DEDICATION ADDRESS

By Irving C. Honegger

Mr. President, All Former Students, Ladies and Gentlemen:

To me, it is indeed a pleasure any time to come back to the best old home town in the world; but, I am especially glad to be here today for this "home-coming", and to have the honor of dedicating the new gymnasium. I consider it a signal honor to my class, and particularly to the memory of my departed classmate, whose beautiful life, and lovely character, shall ever be—to those of us who knew her—a fixed constellation; and, to her family a rich heritage. For this honor and this privilege I am very grateful.

IRVING C. HONEGGER

Most of the alumni and former students are grown-ups, and some of us are nearly of age. But at least for a day, let's be boys and girls again, for we have laid aside our labors and have come here to visit old friends and to reenter the school spirit of play. As a matter of fact, we all play a game—the game of life—all the time. In many ways the game of life is much like the game of solitaire. If you play it well and honestly, you get a great kick out of it whether you win or not; but, if you don't, you'll know it's fraudulent and you'll soon grow tired of it. Life is a great game if it is well played; and, as we recollect it to have been so often well played in this community.

Learning to work by learning to play may sound a bit jocular to many of us old fashioned folks; but actually, well organized and controlled play is one of the finest forms of training. Certainly, to meet the complexities of today it is quite essential, and for that reason the new gymnasium has come about. It will be a workshop for the development and training of youth during their school days. Let us refer to the background to get a comparison of our present day needs in this direction with those of the periods past. If we turn back to the time when our ancestors came to this wilderness in ox wagons, we find those early untiring settlers were a people unsurpassed in bravery, daring, loyalty, high principles, rugged honesty, fair play, patriotism, and in their love and respect for their fellowmen. The many interesting stories of their Indian fights, and of their privations and hardships tell gloriously of those remarkable qualities. Most of them had come a long way to make this—their home forever, a place where they might have liberty, contentment and opportunity. Theirs was a determined purpose! And, they made of it the country and the day historians will ever refer to as that place and time when a man's word was his bond; when his neighbor was his friend; when friendship was not measured by, nor did it depend upon, distance, advantage, bank accounts, property lines or social position. I am happy and thankful, that as a little boy, it was my good fortune to grow up here under the continuing influence of such a day. Their time was perhaps no better for them than today is for us, nor than tomorrow will be for our successors; but it was at least, a different day.

Then, people had room; they had time; they could reflect; they could philosophize. We see in their day they had time to do things that make good people better. By our comparison, we think theirs was a simple life. Their playground was the great outdoors. In their sunshine of contentment, and under the starry canopy of Heaven, they made these wide open spaces their gymnasium, and used it for our betterment. With tempered justice they operated largely under natural laws, and under the laws of their own economics. They had few restrictions, and no regimentation. Thrift and survival of the fit was their dependable law of social security. Often, a man's conscience had to be his conduct's only guide; and, if it proved to be wrong he took the consequences without crying, for through lonely cruelty of experience he had also learned how to lose. Those pioneers have passed on; but long after their names on tombstones shall have weathered away, their marks in life will live in the minds and in the hearts of men.

Those hard-working, home-making, God-fearing people planted themselves here like sturdy oaks in an open forest; and, forever, we shall be happy to point with enviable pride to them, and to their accomplishments. But remember, their footholds, and their gains, in this great wilderness stood only because they knew how to deal with, and how to get along face to face with the folks of their time.

And since the pioneers, there has been a day—yes many days and many deeds; that together brought us from that proud past to the present in our school. This heritage was not just handed to us; the good people worked hard for it. Many had to "give and take" to make it. The peace of the eighties turned into the turmoil of the nineties. Friction followed, and rows threatened the very existence of this school. The school boards did their best; good teachers were not to blame; it was a condition. But, about the turn of the century the people elected a new school board; that fearless old triumvirate—Ney, Wilson and de Montel, whose very independence, stamina, and almost religious regard for principles, coupled with their untiring efforts, and determination put this school anew on a going basis. Just as one would expect of that board, they hired a strong faculty, and put at its head that noble, ever-helpful character, Prof. Elder, whom we want to call The Father of the Hondo High School.

This was the beginning of the school's better day, but—just don't go on and on of their own accord. Splendid school boards and many fine faculties followed—each adding their mighty bit, until during this crowning decade the school has won its place, with the leaders of the land. It has produced athletes all Texas knows—and not unknown to the nation; while its own teams take top rank with the school teams of Texas. We are all proud of them! But even beyond that, this school has been and is producing and perfecting the finest men, and the finest women, for all walks of life. People, those things don't just happen! There's a "because" and the "because" is Superintendent Barry and his splendid faculty, backed by a good school board. No small town teams could have turned the tides in Texas like these have done without wonderful teachers, and marvellous coaching. Yes, coaching that means much more than just "knowing how". It's the kind of coaching that has the right kind of a man behind it. Ah, friends, don't forget—that those little words, those little encouragements—the little teachings of your coach, will long linger in many memories, and will be reflected around the firesides of the future.

Since the days of the pioneers this world, and the times have changed. It has become a crowded place. Fences are everywhere; "private" and "keep-out" signs are in abundance. Action and speed have been stepped up. Associations are complex. Competition is keen; criticism most severe. Life is strenuous

PUBLIC OPINION

By Clayton Rand

Some one has said, "Show me the kind of books one reads and I'll tell you what he thinks."
It might be as truly said, "Show me your local newspaper and I'll read the thought of your community."
It is not that the weekly press of America is any great molder of public opinion—primarily the weekly press is more of a reflector of public opinion than a molder of it.
The weekly press mirrors the thought, the purpose and the character of its people, and, believe it or not, as the crossroads thinks, so goes the country.
(Copyright)

and often exacting. Every day successful men must make momentary decisions that once might have had weeks of pondering. It is more than ever a time for preparedness, and for readiness to "give and take", in which "give" may often mean "take" and "take" may often mean "give". Naturally, as our athletes have attracted attention, we have continued to watch them. Their case of accomplishment in later life has shown us that people do better and get along more smoothly when they are better trained in the games of school.

I don't know much about athletics, but I have observed that sometimes poor teams seem to know how to win, while only well trained, well coached teams seem ever to know how to lose. In the game of life, few can continue long to win who do not also know how to lose. Paraphrasing an old expression: "True greatness comes not from never falling, but in rising higher each time you fall."

When a student takes advantage of training in this new gymnasium, his every move of manners, his every trait of character, will have its workout, its cultivation. It is here: the right kind, the stern but understanding and sympathetic coach can do so much towards helping a student find himself; and, in helping that student on to a proper development of his talents for his life's work. The responsibilities of teachers, and of coaches, are indeed great ones; tomorrow's nation is in their making!

So; not alone for the physical training; but also, for the purpose of making better people, better citizens—for developing the qualities of good sportsmanship, of fair play, of "give and take", gentleness, kindness, loyalty, team work, honesty, integrity, energy, resourcefulness and dependability, this gymnasium has been built. To these lofty purposes, for the betterment of this, and of future generations, in grateful appreciation for what has been done, by all, in the past, we dedicate this gymnasium to the boys and girls of today, and to the boys and girls of tomorrow, asking them ever to remember: "WHEN THE ONE GREAT SCORER COMES TO WRITE AGAINST THEIR NAMES HE'LL WRITE NOT THAT THEY WON OR LOST BUT HOW THEY PLAYED THEIR GAMES."

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

Immediately after the program a business meeting of the Hondo High School Alumni Association was held, with the President, Dr. O. B. Taylor, presiding. Roll was called of the classes by years. One hundred and eighteen graduates responded, the classes of 1916, 1927, and 1939 tying with nine members each present. The class of 1940 was next with eight members present.

Two resolutions for deceased members, Anna Pluck Barnes and Clyde Hollaway, were adopted and are printed elsewhere in this paper. In the election of officers, the present panel composed of Dr. Taylor, president, and Miss Anne Davis, secretary, was held in office by acclamation. Mrs. Bess Brucks Eickenroht (1916) was elected vice-president to fill the office left vacant on the death of Mrs. Barnes.

The motion adopted in 1938 to hold the homecoming every three years, was amended to set the date definitely every three years on Armistice Day. The next and third Homecoming celebration, therefore, will be held November 11, 1945.

After several announcements were made regarding the remaining program of the day, the meeting adjourned.

Registration of graduates and ex-students was held after the meeting and during the day, with Mrs. Meda Crow O'Connell (1923) presiding. One hundred and five registered.

NEW MATTRESS PROGRAM BEGINS

Rules and regulations for the 1941 Mattress program have been received, and the new program explained to representative people of various communities in the county, it has been announced by Miss Nell L. Foley, County Home Demonstration Agent.

In general, the 1941 program will operate in the same manner as the 1940 program under which 191,990 mattresses are being made in Texas according to Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent for the Extension Service. The scope of the program is limited to groups financially unable to purchase mattresses from commercial concerns and will interfere in no way with the sale of mattresses through commercial channels, she explained.

Families are eligible: If they live in the country and had a total income of not more than $500 for the previous calendar year. For each member of the family in excess of four, this figure may be raised $50.

If they live in a village, town or city and receive at least half of their total income during the previous calendar year from agricultural occupations, providing, of course, the total income was not more than $500.

Each eligible family may receive one mattress for each two persons in the family, not to exceed a total of three mattresses.

Applications for mattresses under the 1941 program will be taken by Miss Nell L. Foley, county home demonstration agent. Miss Foley explained that she will take applications in the following communities during the month and asked that people who wished to sign an application see her in these communities or in her office at Hondo or contact Mr. R. D. Burden, Administrative Assistant of the AAA office:

November 16—Hondo—office.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas our fellow member, Clyde Holloway, a member of the graduating class of Hondo High School of 1912, departed this life on December 10, 1939; now, therefore, be it resolved by the Alumni Association of the Hondo High School that it has lost a most worthy and esteemed member, one always an uplift to the things most worthwhile in the community and whose beautiful life and character shall ever be our cherished memory.

Be it further resolved that copies hereof be sent to his family and to the press.

Johnny—I fell in a mud puddle.
Mother—What, with your new pants on?

Johnny—Yes, I fell so fast I didn't have a chance to take them off.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

The Pearsall Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Yancey Barnhart are the parents of a baby girl born November 6, weighing 7 pounds and 4 1-2 ounces.

Tom Gilliam Jr., a student at T. M. I. visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Gilliam over the weekend.

The Sabinal Sentinel.

Mrs. Elmer Knippa and son, Larry, of Hondo were the guests Wednesday and Thursday of their parents, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey.

Ferd Louis Rothe of Hondo was a visitor here Saturday. Ferd Louis is an ex-student of the Sabinal High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Russell and children of Del Rio spent the weekend with Mrs. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ilse.

Messrs. O. E. Richarz and L. D. Bowen were San Antonio visitors Friday of last week. Mr. Richarz delivered the remainder of a bunch of 40 head of goats to a party in San Antonio and placed them on a ranch near the city. On the return home Mr. Richarz bought some new household furniture for their home.

VALDINA RACE STOCK GO TO CALIFORNIA

Two cars of Valdina Farm's race stock passed through Sabinal Wednesday afternoon on the 5 o'clock train enroute to California from the North. One car had 16 head of horses and the other had 18 head with a number of attendants to see to their comfort.

Valdina Myth, that recently won the added Selma Stake of $10,000 at Laurel, Maryland, was in the car of 18 horses.

They will reach their destination Friday.

MRS. LOUISA GROSSENBACHER SANTLEBEN

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, October 26, for Mrs. Louisa Grossenbacher Santleben, 83, at her home in Sabinal. Evangelist Reakley of the Beacon Hill Church of Christ conducted the services. Burial was made in the Sabinal cemetery.

Mrs. Santleben was a member of a prominent pioneer family, of the Castroville community. She had been in ill health for several years, but was able to be up and to visit among her children and friends when she was stricken suddenly Friday night and died in a short while.

Born Louisa Mina Grossenbacher near Castroville in Medina County, June 27, 1857, she was the first child of John and Augusta Grossenbacher who came from Germany with their parents, married after arriving here and settled in Castro's Colony which is now known as Castroville.

Like most of the early settlers her father when he made a move, would settle near a fort. So Mrs. Santleben received parts of her education here and there; however, the greater part was received in Austin.

She was married to John Ferdinand Santleben on March 15, 1879. His family was also a member of Castro's Colony, and the remains of his home are still to be seen a few miles east of Castroville on Highway 90. They moved to Uvalde County in the fall of the same year.

Their first abode was on the Sabinal River, at the old Rheiner place which is now known as the old Woodley home. Later Mr. and Mrs. Santleben moved on up the canyon and built them a small house on Hackberry Creek. They lived there awhile and then followed a cow trail on up Blanco Creek and built a nice ranch home, where most of their family were born and reared. Lumber from their first little home on Hackberry Creek was built into one of the rooms of their home which still stands on the Blanco.

Mr. Santleben preceded his wife in death five years. He died in November 1935.

This fine old couple were of that sturdy heroic type of pioneers who laid deep and firm the foundation of our present civilization and prosperity and to whom, therefore, we are indebted for more than we can ever repay.

Mrs. Santleben's home was noted for its hospitality. Those who knew her spoke of her as a gentlewoman, a devoted wife and an untiring mother. She was the mother of eleven children, seven of whom survive. Truly it is said, "a worthy woman whose hands have done constructive work has passed to her reward." She was a member of the Lutheran Church, since early childhood as was her husband.

Surviving are five sons: Will of Utopia; Louie, San Antonio; Edward Oscar and John, Sabinal; two daughters, Mesdames L. P. Horton and C. L. Cook, Sabinal; ten grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Emma Rheiner, San Antonio; five brothers, August, LaCoste, John, Will Henry and Robert Grosenbacher, San Antonio.

Active pallbearers were her five grandsons: Eck and LeRoy Horton, Sabinal, Aubrey Santleben, Richard Casey, San Antonio; Bill Blocker, Hondo; one nephew, Earl Tietze.

The Uvalde Leader-News.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. King and son, Jerry, spent Sunday in Hondo with relatives.—Batesville.

NEW MEN NEEDED

The huge expansion program now under way in the U. S. Navy requires that thousands of new men be enlisted and trained for petty officer ratings. In civil life when an organization needs additional electricians, machinists, or other specialists, usually they employ trained and experienced men for the jobs. In the Navy when additional electricians, machinists, etc., are required, inexperienced young men are enlisted and trained to fill such vacancies. Thousands of vacancies exist in the Navy in all lines of work and all will be filled by enlisting untrained men who within a few months after enlistment will have completed the basic training which will enable them to become specialists. Four months after enlisting they are automatically advanced one grade with an increase of $15 per month in pay. Four months later, those who have proven worthy are eligible for another advancement which carries an increase in monthly pay of $18 per month. After a total of twelve months service they are eligible for advancement to a petty officer rating with a further increase in pay of $6 per month.

Everything Big in Texas

Some boys in Kansas City were showing a Texas rancher the city. "What do you think of our stock yards?" they asked him.

"Oh, they're all right, but we have branding corrals in Texas that are bigger," he said.

That night they put some terrapins in his bed. When he had turned back the cover they said:

"Those are Missouri bed bugs." He peered at them a moment, then smiled. "So they are," he decided. "Young uns, ain't they?"

Whom and When

Lecturer: "All my success in life," he said proudly, "all my enormous financial prestige, I owe to one thing only—Pluck. I want all of you young men to take that word for your motto."

He paused impressively, and a young man sitting in the front row asked:

"Yes, sir, but won't you please tell us how many and whom did you pluck?"

AN APPRECIATION. TO THE VOTERS OF MEDINA COUNTY:

I have often made the remark that I had rather have friends than money and now I repeat that statement with more sincerity than ever before in my life. It was not money that elected me to the office I was seeking, but friends.
 To each and every one of you who voted for me, and to the many friends throughout the county who worked in my behalf I am deeply grateful. I realize that I am the public servant of all the people of this county, and it is my duty and it will be my pleasure to serve you in an impartial way.
 I seek the friendship and confidence of you all and I expect to do my best to be a worthy officer of this county.
 Sincerely,
JAMES R. DUNCAN.

TO THE VOTERS OF MEDINA COUNTY

This is to thank one and all for your votes and support in my race for re-election to the office of County Judge. It shall be my earnest endeavor by a faithful discharge of the duties with which you have entrusted me to the better show, by deeds rather than words, my deep appreciation of your confidence and good will.
 Very truly yours to serve,
ARTHUR H. ROTHE.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to tender my thanks to the voters of Medina County and to my friends for their support in my election for County Attorney of Medina County. Naturally, it made me happy to win but it also had its unpleasant side too, as it meant defeating my friend, Judge H. E. Haas, who ran a clean campaign, one worthy of his venerable character.
 Sincerely,
FRANK X. VANCE.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to assure those who voted in the November 5th election for my re-election as your Public Weigher of my sincere thanks and appreciation for your favor and continued confidence. It will be my endeavor to discharge the duties of the position to the best of my ability and for the convenience of all.
 Very truly yours to serve,
PAUL R. RICHTER.

TO VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 3

I sincerely thank the voters of Precinct No. Three for the support given me in the recent election for Commissioner of this precinct. I pledge my best efforts to a capable discharge of the duties of the office and I promise you fair and impartial service during my tenure of office.
 Sincerely,
O. W. TONDRE.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my friends for their support in the recent election. Rest assured that I shall endeavor to serve you to the best of my ability, as I have in the past. I hold no ill feelings toward any who did not see fit to support me.
 Sincerely,

Armistice Day visitors in Hondo and at the Fletcher Davis home were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson of New York City, who are spending the winter in San Antonio, and Miss Lenore Paschal of San Antonio. Miss Paschal and Mrs. Benson, are daughters of the late Judge and Mrs. T. M. Paschal. Judge Paschal represented this district in Congress, 1892-94, when he was succeeded by Judge E. J. Noonan's father. The Paschal family made their home at Castroville where "The Paschal Place", as it was called, was one of the show places of that little city. Located on the banks of the Medina River, it boasted of a bathing beach, with bath houses, boats, etc., as early as 1885, and the large, two-story residence was almost hidden among the tall trees of every variety, and was surrounded by flowering plants and shrubs of every description. A conservatory filled with rare ferns was an added attraction and the pride of Mrs. Paschal. All this wonderful growth of trees and plants was brought about by irrigation, the water being pumped up from the Medina river to the top of the hill. Miss Lenora and Miss Pauline, with the two Paschal boys, Harold and Elmer, and Mrs. Fletcher Davis were more, and Mrs. Fletcher Davis were schoolmates at the "little ole rock school house" in Castroville in the days of long ago. Time has wrought many changes, and among them the change in the once beautiful home of the Paschal family at Castroville. The house was destroyed by fire and the grounds were mired by lack of water and care, and no trace of the trees and shrubs remains.

Informal class reunions were held at the Hondo High School during Homecoming celebration Monday. The Class of 1916, with eleven members in attendance had the largest representation at the festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Schweers were hosts of a delicious and charmingly arranged buffet supper from 5 to 7 Monday evening for members of 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, and 13th classes, that of 1926. Refreshments of molded Waldorf salad, ham, pickled, snacks, chocolate layer cake and coffee were served.

FOR SALE, for complete bath room cottage, with porch, located and glassed in back porch, located on two large lots. Good well, etc., city water, garage, wash house, etc., close to school. See either member of the Hondo Land Co. tf.

LARGE CROWD EATS WITH P-T. A.

The Hondo Parent-Teacher Association served a delicious barbecue dinner in the school hall to a large crowd of diners. The menu consisted of barbecue, potato and cole slaw salads, pickles and bread, cake and coffee. The Pep Squad girls had a stand in the hall, too, where cold drinks and confections were sold.

MAJOR GRID ENCOUNTER GETS RECORD ATTENDANCE

An estimated crowd of over three thousand football fans from all over this district crowded and over-flowed the bleachers at Barry Field at 2:30 in the afternoon, when the Hondo Owls trampled the Del Rio Wildcats, 20 to 0. Joe Embrey passed 30 yards to Clinton Hartung for a touchdown in the first period and Hartung kicked the point. That was enough but the Owls made two more. Hartung ran 15 yards for a score in the second period to bring the score to 13 to 0. Embrey later passed again to Hartung for 15 yards and the final score. Hartung kicked the point. It was the first defeat for Del Rio, while Hondo remains undefeated in the North Zone conference play. The play for play account of the game is given elsewhere in this paper. Coaches for the Hondo Owls are T. D. Bridges and Ira Walker.

Between halves of the game the Sabinal High School Band was presented in guest performance by invitation. It was followed on the field by the Del Rio High School Pep Squad and Band, which put on an elaborate act for the entertainment of the spectators. As time was limited, the Hondo Pep Squad and Drum Corps gave their stunt following the game.

Mr. Hons Richards, Superintendent of the Sabinal Schools, was announcer of the plays at the game, watching from the press box.

The Boy Scouts helped during the game by locating bleacher seats for visitors, running errands and complying with other demands made on their services. The Pep Squad also had a concession on the grounds.

DANCE CLOSES FESTIVITIES

The grand finale of the Homecoming celebration was the dance held from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. that night in the new gymnasium. Mack Rogers and his Gunter Hotel orchestra played the music for dancing and for the grand march which was held at 9:30 p. m. Dr. H. J. Meyer, President of the Hondo School Board of Trustees, with Mrs. Meyer, and Supt. and Mrs. J. Gordon Barry led the grand march in which a large number of dancers took part. Interested spectators saw the grand march from the gymnasium bleachers. The Pep Squad girls had the refreshment stand. Many ex-students who were unable to attend the other festivities during the day were on hand for the final event.

fense the Wildcats gained very little ground. The pass defense of the Owls allowed very few passes to be completed. Winning this game gave the Owls practically a cinch on the North Zone of this district and if the Owls are victorious over the Sabinal team, they will play either Pearsall or Cotulla for the district championship.

As the game opened the Del Rio Wildcats kicked off to the Owls, Embrey taking the ball and returning it twenty yards. On the first play Embrey held the ball on a reverse and went off tackle for an eight yard gain. Then Finger went around left tackle for eight yards and a first down; on the next play Hartung went outside right tackle for five yards and Finger picked up seven yards off left tackle and another first down. Then Embrey picked up five yards off right tackle but Del Rio was off side which gave the Owls first down and five yards for another first. On the next play Embrey threw a long pass down the field to Hartung who caught it on about the ten yard line and ran across the goal line standing up for the first score of the game. Hartung then converted for the extra point which made the score 7-0 in favor of the Owls.

Hartung then kicked off to the Wildcats and on the first play the Wildcats were penalized five yards for off side, on the next three plays the Owls' strong line held the Wildcats and they were forced to punt on fourth down and fourteen yards to go for a first down. On the first play Hartung went off right tackle for a four yard gain. Finger then took the ball around left tackle and cut to the side line for a gain of thirty-three yards; on the next play Embrey threw a pass to Hartung who lateraled to Dawson, but the pass was called back for one of the Owls backfield men was in motion. On the next play Weyand took the ball from Embrey on a spinner play and

SCIENCE GUARDS

America's telephone service

Men of science watch as fantastic apparatus enacts an unrehearsed drama before their eager eyes . . . nearby, other research experts peer into their microscopes . . . in another room, laboratory technicians put through grueling tests some new and better part for America's telephone system . . .

The scene is the Bell Telephone Laboratories where nearly 5,000 scientists and assistants explore the unknown to build a better telephone service for America. Today their thousands of inventions and developments serve America.

By modern scientific methods huge telephone cables are made and buried underground, guarded from floods, fires, storms, and other disasters. Some of the more important cables are filled with gas, so that the smallest leak in the lead covering sounds an automatic alarm, summoning repair crews.

America's telephone system, guarded by science, is armed to withstand many attacks which a few years ago might have silenced thousands of telephones and isolated many communities.

Today Americans, in any emergency, turn to the telephone, knowing they will receive fast, dependable service.

LOVE OR A CAREER?

By FANNIE HURST

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
(WNU Service)

EVERYWHERE about her, ever since she could remember, she had heard the bright patter about economic independence of women.

It was wonderful to belong so irrefutably to a world of women which had asserted its right to venture unchallenged into certain fields of work-a-day activities hitherto reserved for the exploits of men.

If anyone had out and out asked Emania if she were a suffragette, her reply would have been evasive, non-committal and unconsciously not quite honest.

One did not have to be so stern and uncompromising an advocate as that! Emania did not intend to let herself get "strong minded" about it. Those were the sort of women who defeated their own cause; antagonized the men and alienated the women.

Emania was not particularly concerned about the vote, even as a symbol to this much heralded emancipation. Women's party membership. Not much! All very well and good for those women who wanted to risk their looks and their charm and their desirability, catching trains for Washington to get bills introduced and abuses defeated. Of course some one had to do it and certain kinds of women were magnificent for the job.

Economic independence to Emania was just a pleasant isolated fact. Forty-five dollars a week as confidential secretary to a life insurance company's vice president, who seldom came to his office more than three two-hour mornings a week, and who placed implicit confidence in his secretary's competence to cope with the honorary duties of his largely honorary position, left Emania free to enjoy to their fullest the economic advantages of a good salary, an extraordinary amount of leisure and a pleasant apartment in which she had the time, taste and money to entertain with judgment and skill.

It was not surprising that a young woman in her position, good-looking in a brown, sleek-haired, slender and efficient sort of way, chic because she could afford to dress well, alert because she had leisure and money for lectures, books, concerts and theaters, should think twice, nay thrice, before she considered anything so drastic as marriage.

Marriage, even into conditions which bettered hers materially, was something at which to look askance. Her position was so right. So secure. So free. Even a marriage that bettered materially, was gravely liable to pitfalls.

But it so happened that the opportunity of marriage which presented itself to Emania was not one to better her position in the worldly sense of the word.

Thomas Maugham's earnings were about the same as Emania's, and his work in a large Middle West city would have made it impossible for Emania to continue hers in the East. Besides, Thomas, in that curiously gentle way of his, was out-and-out about what he wanted where Emania's activities were concerned.

All well and good for women to go out into business and careers after marriage. Thomas was the last person to have an attitude about it in general, but he wasn't going to make a bone about his attitude in particular. Let the future take care of itself. But for the first year or two or three, at least, Thomas wanted Emania in his home—after that—well, time to talk about it.

Neither was Thomas the one to bluster about the fact of children. He wanted them and he wanted them while he and Emania were still young enough to enjoy youth with their offspring. All in all, it looked as if Thomas' idea about the future, which he was apparently so willing to let take care of itself, was pretty well laid out.

Life in a Middle West city, as the wife of a young salesman for an automobile firm, was not the glamorous picture Emania had drawn for herself on those occasions when she let her mind reach into the future beyond her snug present. And that salesman one who had certain reactionary views that were rather frightening.

In the abstract it could scarcely be said that the opportunity to marry Thomas Maugham was the rosy one that should have attracted her response, except for one great factor.

Emania was in love with Thomas. He was the sort of man she could visualize with thrill, as the husband of her household, the father of her children, the dear close confidant of every aspect of her life. He had qualities that in a man were precious to her. Vigor, gentleness, intelligence, and a charming laissez faire. This last, she told herself, his easy-going capacity to let tomorrow take care of itself, was what was going to stand in his way of an ultimate big material success in life. But just the same, it kept him sweet and unshrewd and gentle in the way that was so appealing to her.

For three months Emania dallied with the idea of marrying Thomas, torn between the conflicting elements of what was undoubted attraction; her practical knowledge of his shortcomings; her dread of the monotony of what a routine life would mean; and her hovering sense of the folly of throwing away her freedom and economic independence.

In the end her judgment, and what she called her common sense, and her distaste for the sordidness of the routine of comparative poverty, stacked up against what she called her school-girl romanticism, and one morning, in the Middle West city, Thomas received the letter which permanently severed their provisional engagement.

Afterward, as Emania told herself, she realized to what extent she had hovered on the edge of folly. Once the letter had been written dismissing Thomas, it seemed to her that all her good judgment, released from bondage, came flowing to hedge her in further from the folly of what she had contemplated. Once that letter was written and mailed, it seemed incredible to Emania that she had ever even hovered on the edge of indecision.

Three months later, her salary was increased thirty-three and one-third per cent, and at the end of two years her photograph had appeared in a popular magazine as one of the ten highest-salaried women in the country.

She has a three-story house now, on one of the smart East side streets of the city, which she shares with a woman friend who is almost equally successful in another field of endeavor. Their joint Sunday evening at home are among the most popular in an exclusive and sophisticated set of professional and social men and women. At forty, Emania is chic, worldly wise, traveled, successful and filled with the divers interests of a demanding and complex business life, a busy social whirl, good clothes, good food, and even better business prospects.

She and her woman friend, however, plan to retire one of these days and take a hunting trip into East Africa that will consume several years.

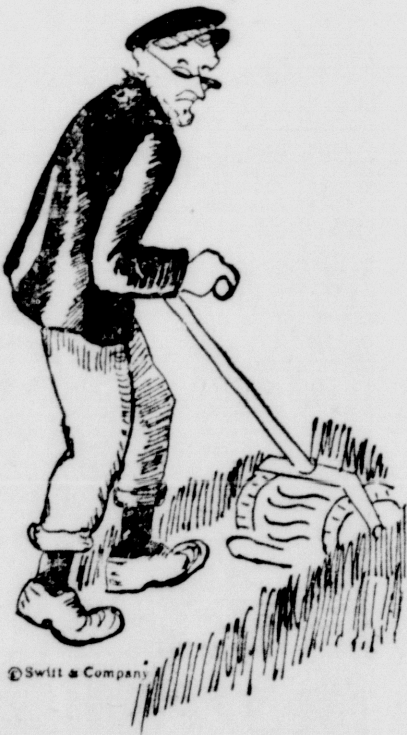

Every so often, on one of her business trips across country, Emania has occasion to stop in Tom Maugham's city and she never fails to look him up. Thomas has married, is earning about sixty dollars a week, and with his wife and two children, occupies a bungalow in a row of similar ones, on a pretty suburban street.

Eileen Maugham is forty, a little fat, blond, and his two tall gangling sons, one in hers and one in Thomas' image. Their lives apparently are as routinized as the row of bungalows in which they live, except for the fact that Eileen does not see it that way, and Thomas does not, and the universe about the unit of four in that small house on the small street is busy and happy and crammed with the petty anxieties and joys of a humdrum existence.

There is no doubt, of course, that not for one instant would Emania change places with Eileen.

On the other hand there is even less doubt that Eileen could contemplate anything so calamitous as having to change places with Emania.

AN IMPORTANT STUDY

University of Texas scientists are getting ready to help Texas agriculturists launch a new industry—cheese manufacture.

Long monopolized by Middle West dairymen, this field is being explored by the University's Bureau of Industrial Chemistry. Dr. Monroe Kriegel, assistant professor of chemical engineering, has been borrowed from Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville, to head the investigation.

Dr. Kriegel's job, according to bureau director E. P. Schoch, is not one of actual research in cheese manufacture, but a task of running down and coordinating all information available on Texas resources which will support this special branch of the dairy industry.

The bureau must be able to supply information on the number of cows necessary to maintain a cheese factory, the cost of feeding the cows, how to finance such a plant, what equipment is necessary, how to process the cheese, where markets are available, etc.

Inspired by the general program of state industrialization, Texas communities have become increasingly interested in cheese manufacture, Dr. Schoch declares. For some time questions regarding establishment or processing units have found their way into bureau mail. Net result was that the University bureau simply took up the role of clearing house for information gathered in all corners of the State, hired Dr. Kriegel to do the job.

Help has come from Texas A. & M. College in regard to extension experts available, from the State Department of Health regarding legal restrictions and sewage disposal problems, from Kraft Cheese Corporation concerning contracts made with independent cheese companies, from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and from manufacturers of cheese plant machinery.

Since cheese processing is not an over-crowded field, Dr. Schoch sees in it and other dairy industries, an outlet for Texas products of which the State has just become aware.

HUBAM CLOVER

Hubam clover "looks like the money."

Many county agricultural agents are reporting that farmers, who have tried the legume, are well satisfied and that the acreage will be increasing this fall and next spring.

Here's what E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has to report on Hubam clover: It is well adapted to the entire blackland area of North, Central, and South Texas, and the Gulf Coast Prairie.

Hubam clover which is the annual white blooming sweet clover, grows well on soils that have considerable lime, but will not do well on acid or sour land unless it is limed. The clover is planted in the fall in the southern half of the state, but in North Texas it is safer to seed it in the spring on account of danger of winter-killing. A good way to plant it is in rows 18 inches to 3 feet apart at the rate of 6 to 8 pounds of seed per acre. It should be planted shallow on firm seed bed.

It is a fine soil-building crop as it gathers nitrogen from the air and the roots penetrate deep into the soil. The clover makes considerable tonnage for grazing and to be turned under as green manure. Cattle may pass it up at first, but will eat it with relish when used to it. Because Hubam makes most of its growth in early spring and late summer, it does well even in fields infested with Johnson grass. Experimental tests show that Hubam clover is superior to other winter legumes in South Texas. While it is also well adapted to North Texas, the white and yellow biennial sweet clovers should not be overlooked in that area, as they have the advantage of growing two successive seasons and supplying grazing or a hay crop the first summer and much grazing or hay the second spring or summer before going to seed. In North Texas they should be spring-planted either alone or with spring oats in rows two to three feet apart.

Lucky for Pat

An Irishman was telling his friend of his narrow escape at Dunkerque. "The bullet went in me chest right where me heart is and came out me back."
"But a bullet that went through your heart would kill you."
"Begorra, me heart wasn't there. It was in me mouth."

1940 Call for Red Cross Recruits

The 1940 Poster of The American Red Cross sounds the call to the nation to serve humanity within the ranks of this army of mercy.

KEEPING step with the boys called to the colors in America's new defense army and navy, will be the American Red Cross, fulfilling its mission of service to the men in the line and to their loved ones at home. Chairman Norman H. Davis announced in Washington.

"Several thousand Red Cross nurses already have been called to the colors," Mr. Davis said, "and Red Cross field directors, and thousands of Red Cross workers in Chapters throughout the nation, are ready to help America's soldiers and sailors with personal problems, just as in the 1917-18 World War period.

"Every patriotic man and woman in the United States, who wants to do his or her share in upholding the national defense of our nation, can do so by sharing in the vitally important work of the Red Cross. Join as a member of the local Chapter during the roll call, November 11 to 30, and through your support you will strengthen the Red Cross army of mercy.

"Recruits are needed not alone as members, but also as volunteer workers in the Red Cross Chapters."

Red Cross work will continue undiminished in its usual domestic program of relief in disaster; community public health nursing; safety education and promotion of the Junior Red Cross. An individual membership supports all of this work, not only in Red Cross Chapters, but in the nation. Relief to war victims in Europe is financed by the $20,000,000 war relief fund contributed by the public during the summer of 1940.

The opinions here expressed are Preston's own and not necessarily those of this paper.—M. E.

When the election aftermath is over, perhaps more of the truth about defense will be disclosed.
The rate the American people are paying for the truth, for it is their right that is being defended.
An important part of the truth is that the National Defense Advisory Commission is one of the 69 new agencies which have grown up like mushrooms since 1933. Like many others, it is honeycombed with inefficiency, overlapping duplications, jealousy. It is even worse off than most of the other 68 because it has no "boss"—no one individual can tell its divisions what to do and thus stop inter-division fights.
For example, one substantial national organization prepared to survey of industrial capacity find plants which could produce national defense goods but which are not doing so.
Before the job was well under way, half a dozen branches of the commission had to have the plan explained to them in detail. Each invested that the facts found would be used to them, because they were one which would have jurisdiction over it.
All this naturally delayed the job.
There had been one boss, the job had been cleared with him long since finished.

—WSS—
Nearly everybody at the Commission realizes that private factories can be used to get the materials and needs. Many officials and officials want, therefore, to encourage private enterprise. But not they want to put the government into business. They seem to think that the way to encourage business is to compete with it.
Those who feel this way must be essential, for Commissioner Knudsen, who after all was responsible production by one of the nation's most and most successful businessmen, felt impelled to say this:

"There is a school of thought in Washington which feels that the government should go into business on a large scale. The government business on a large scale right now is on a scale as big as it can go, on a larger scale than any country except perhaps Russia.
We don't want any part of the business system over here.
The success of our program depends upon the brains and patriotism of the American business man, engineer, banker, executive, and working men. It is only one member of the Commission. Although his experience would be helpful in building national defense, and although views doubtless would be shared by a majority of the people, he can only one branch of the Commission. He can't even run that if the Commissioners overrule him.
The long and short of it is that under such circumstances no man can do his best job.
The present mess, however, would be even worse than it is if control of everything were given to one whose qualification is that he is a theoretician, an experimenter, an economist, a planner.

—WSS—
The defense reaches its peak, the people naturally will increase. The needed billions have got to come from some place. So an immediate task confronting Congress is to find sources for new tax money.

That is a difficult job. A recent survey showed that federal taxes and duties already exist on many things, among others:
Individual income, telephone calls, grams, oleomargarine, cigarettes, automobiles, tires, tubes, automobile accessories, liquor, silk, shoes, leather, smoking tobacco, cheese, matches, tractors, admissions, and so on and on.
That doesn't leave the tax hunters very big field to explore. At present most of them are thinking of taxes.

With the discontinuance of the weekly San Antonio Express

now only two newspapers in Texas of general interest except the dailies. We will be forced to forward subscriptions to any new dailies, but if you are not interested in a daily, The Pathfinder, which is a resume of the general news, is the best substitute for the Express. See announcement elsewhere in this paper of our club of-

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations for the positions listed below. Applications must be filed with the Commission's Washington office not later than November 25, if received from States east of Colorado, and not later than November 28, 1940, if received from Colorado and States westward. The salaries are subject to a retirement deduction of 3 1/2 percent.

Senior specialist in higher education, $4,600 a year, Office of Education, Federal Security Agency. The duties of this position include making studies of problems in the field of higher education involving curricula, methods of instruction, faculty welfare, student personnel, financial support, etc. Applicants must have completed a 4-year college course and in addition must have had progressive experience in the field of higher education, including experience in making or supervising normative and comparative studies of higher institutions of learning.

Superintendent of clothing factory, salaries ranging from $2,600 a year to $3,800 a year; foreman tailor, salaries ranging from $1,860 a year to $2,300 a year. The salaries vary with the establishment to which assigned. Employment is under the Bureau of Prison Industries, Department of Justice. Applicants must have had experience in the clothing manufacture business sufficiently broad to render them familiar with materials and processes used. Part of the experience for either position must have been in an appropriate supervisory capacity.

No written examinations will be given for these positions. Applicants will be rated on their qualifications as shown in their applications and on corroborative evidence.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Clarence A. Haass, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first- or second-class post office.

BUYS KILMER HORSES

New Market, Va., Oct. 30.—Walter
P. Chrysler, Jr., a comparative newcomer to American racing, added valuable bloodlines to his recently acquired stable today by purchasing 10 thoroughbreds for $36,300 at the Dispersal Sale of the late Willis
Sharpe Kilmer's Court Manor Stud.
Although the youthful son of the late motor manufacturer led in number of animals bought under the auctioneer's hammer and highest aggregate bids, the highest individual bids were put in by other buyers among the more than 1,000 breeders and turf devotees attracted to the sale at the 1,200-acre estate in the Shenandoah Valley.

The 101 animals sold from the collection that made the Kilmer name one of the brightest in America's turf annals brought a total of $225,- 000 for an average of approximately $2,231, an unusually high figure for this type of sale.

Top price was paid by David N.
Rust of Leesburg, Va., for Gino, big gray stallion, which brought $19,500.
Valdina Farms, operated by E. F.
Woodward of Texas, paid the highest price for a mare, $16,500 for Sun Celerina, daughter of Sun Briar, famous Court Manor stallion. The Texan took the dark chestnut mare in spirited bidding against Chrysler, R.
W. McElvain of Chicago, and Leslie Combs III of Kentucky.

Woodward also paid the top price for a colt—$5,500 for a bay son of Sun Briar out of Imported Rivalry.
J. S. Phipps of Warrenton, Va., out-bidding Chrysler for the second time, paid $5,600 for the top filly, the chestnut daughter of Sun Briar and Polly Egret.

Neddie, another famous stallion went to W. W. Vaughan of Red Bank, N. J., for $5,500.—San Antonio Express.

Artistic
"She is very artistic," said the impressible youth.
"Yes," answered his cynical friend. "I suppose she's the type of girl who thinks a bunch of hand-painted flowers is more important on a dinner plate than a steak?"

Mr. Edgar Ester of here underwent a tonsilectomy at the Castroville Clinic Saturday.

C. OF C. MEETING

At the monthly C. of C. meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, matters of importance concerning the bridge opening were discussed by the members. The bridge will be completed shortly but its formal opening has not been definitely arranged to date.

Previous plans called for a bridge dance immediately preceding the opening address but due to the changeable condition of the weather during the fall season it was decided to confer with the citizens of the community as to what action should be taken.

The C. of C. undecided as to how the Castro Park on September Square should be properly cared for are also pleading with the townspeople to attend the called community meeting on Monday, Nov. 25, at the public school.

This meeting was called in regard to the future upkeep and beautification work on the park and also the bridge opening.

CASTROVILLE SWAMPS NORDHEIM 34-15

Nordheim, Texas, Nov. 7.—The Castroville High School Comets added another victory to their credit by defeating the local Nordheim High School East Texan 6 man football machine by a score of 34-15. Playing on a lighted field at first seemed to hamper the Castrovillians in their handling of the ball but after a little while they found their stride and timing and seemed to score at will.

The East Texans caught up one of the Castroville fumbles in the opening period of the game and raced for a touchdown. In the last half a perfectly executed weak side end run netted another touchdown making the locals 15 points.

Castroville's linemen, Suehs and Stinson, especially need plenty of praise for their breaking up of the locals' plays.

CASTROVILLE PLAYS 1939 STATE CHAMPS IN LULING NOV. 20

Castroville, Texas, Nov. 12.—Announcement has been made after a joint meeting of Coach and Superintendent Albert R. Vance of Castroville and Superintendent J. D. Fulton of Prairie Lea that arrangements have been made for their respective high school six man football teams to play their November 20th game in Luling under the flood lights.

The Castrovillians look forward to a real game and intend to break the invincible record established by the Prairie Lea youngsters who have played some 20 games in the last 2 or three years and have never been defeated. Last year at Luling these two teams locked horns and Prairie Lea won over Castroville by a close score.

Prairie Lea has a strong team but does not feature weight as the element of their success. They have light and fast men with a dazzling deceptive touch to their runs and passes. They have one all-American six-man football player from 1939 (the only one in Texas) that really gives the fans their money's worth.

The Castroville Comets have won more games than they have lost this year. They lost only two games last year. Their passing, hard running, and tackling attack are the main reason for most of their wins.

The Castroville Public School is making plans for taking fans to this game in one of the large school buses. From 4 to 6:00 P. M. the fans will also get a chance to visit the Luling Foundation Farm in which a real up-to-date farming program is being carried out. The barns, livestock, crops, terracing, machinery, and all will be on exhibition. The bus will leave about 2:00 P. M. Wednesday and come back about 11:45 P. M. that night.

lar schedule for the Cowboys on their home field. Buddy Biry, Capt. Robert Love, Elmer Keller, Jimmie Zinsmeyer, and James Love will wear the purple and gold of their school for the last time on the home grid because they are all seniors, and their years of eligibility will have been spent.

COURTHOUSE NOTES

Work has so far advanced on the County courthouse project that the additions are beginning to take form. In the interior, the rest rooms on the northwest and northeast corners of the old building are reaching completion. Work began Thursday on dismantling the County Judge's office preparatory to making improvements and changes. County Judge Arthur H. Rothe is now located in the office formerly housing the County Treasurer in the courthouse. The new cornerstone which is to be placed on the Southeast corner of the East wing, was brought in from the quarry this week and the sandblasting of the letters will begin next week. The cornerstone is 3 feet square. The old cornerstone which was obliterated in the joining of the two walls, will be duplicated from a pattern made from the original cornerstone and will be placed on the Northeast corner of the East wing.

Actual construction of the Medina River bridge at Castroville was completed last week, but there yet remains installation of amber lights and the painting of the structure. From the east approach of the bridge to the County line placing and rolling of gravel on the new portion of Highway 90 is being done. A few more weeks should see the completion of the entire project in that end of the County. Barring bad weather, about five additional miles of lateral road tarvation and rolling will get under way shortly. About three miles is in the LaCoste area and two miles on the Castroville-Rio Medina road.

The State Highway Department has designated December 2-6 as Highway Week. The Division office has been contacting the Commissioners' Courts of the district in view of having several meetings in the County, probably with the Chamber of Commerce of the various towns, on highway information in general.

TAKES SEVERAL PRIZES

Mr. Alvin Mumme, proprietor of the Mumme Hatchery in Hondo and the Mumme poultry farms a few miles Southwest of Hondo, found time from his numerous other interests to place an exhibit of his pure-bred poultry at the Eagle Pass Fair.

Two breeds were entered with five exhibits of one and three of the other breed, and all eight secured prizes, five firsts, two seconds and one fourth, as follows:

White Leghorn pen, 1st prize.
White Leghorn Cockerel, 1st.
White Leghorn Hen, first.
White Leghorn Hen, second.
White Leghorn Pullet, 4th.
Rhode Island Reds, pen, 1st.
Rhode Island Reds, pullet, 1st.
Rhode Island Reds, pullet, second.

HONDO TO PLAY AT SABINAL NOV. 22.

There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of some fans as to when the Hondo Owls will play the Sabinal Yellowjackets. According to Supt. J. G. Barry, the Hondo-Sabinal game, the last conference game for the Owls in the North Zone, will be played on the night of Friday, November 22, at Sabinal. This game is the only one remaining in the way of the North half title for Hondo.

The South Zone championship game will also be played the night of November 22, at Pearsall, with Pearsall and Cotulla contesting for the title. The winner of this game will meet the winner of the North Zone for the district championship honors. The place and time are indefinite.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muenink took them by a very pleasant surprise Sunday afternoon, November 3, honoring them on their 25th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Muenink were presented with a beautiful 75-piece silver set and other pretty gifts and flowers. A delicious barbecue supper with all the trimmings and cake, coffee and iced tea, were served. The names of 80 guests are registered in a beautiful folder, hand made and presented to the honorees by Mr. Joseph Polly Paine of San Antonio. A very pleasant evening was spent, after which the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Muenink 25 or more happy years of married life.—Contributed.

LION'S CLUB DISCUSSES P. O. BUILDING

The Hondo Lions Club met at Kramer's Coffee Shop Wednesday afternoon. A letter from Representative Milton H. West was read in regard to the possibility of a post office building for Hondo. As soon as he determines whether or not Hondo is eligible for the building, he promised to inform the Club and to give whatever assistance is possible. Possible sites for the building were discussed.

punt, but instead faked a punt and passed to Embrey over the center of the line which was good for thirty-five yards and another first down. Finger then picked up six yards off left tackle, but there was a penalty against the Owls for holding which left the Owls with first down and twenty-five for a first. A long pass was then incomplete from Weynand to Finger. On the next play Embrey went off right tackle for a seven yard gain, but on the next play there was a fumble and Del Rio recovered the ball. In three plays the Wildcats were unable to make a first down, and with first down and five they punted.

On the first play Weynand took the ball from Embrey on a spinner play but gained no yardage. Then Embrey went off tackle but fumbled the ball and Del Rio again covered the ball. On the first play the Wildcats lost one yard around left end, and on the following play they were penalized fifteen yards for illegal roughness which left them second and twenty-five. On the following play they attempted a pass but Dawson intercepted it. Embrey then went off tackle for a gain of five yards, and Finger went around left end and picked up three yards. Hartung then smashed through right tackle for eight yards and a first down. On the next play Embrey held the ball on a spinner play and went through the center of the line for an eight yard gain. Finger then failed to gain any yardage around left end. A pass was then incomplete, but Del Rio was off side and with a five yard penalty against the Wildcats the Owls had a first down. A long pass from Embrey to Hartung which was good for a fifty yard gain set up a touchdown for the Owls. On the next play the Owls went in to short punt with Hartung back, the ball was snapped to Hartung who went off right tackle and reversed the field and crossed the goal line standing up for the second score of the game. Hartung then tried for the extra point but it was not good. This gave the Owls thirteen points to the Wildcats none.

Hartung then kicked off to the Wildcats for the Owls and the ball carrier was downed on the fifteen yard line. The Wildcats tried two off tackle plays which netted them one yard. At this time the sound of the gun ended the first half with the Hondo Owls leading by thirteen points.

When the second half started Hartung again kicked off for the Owls. The Wildcats took the ball and gained two yards off left tackle on the first play and on the next play they tried a pass but it was intercepted by Hartung. On the first play Embrey took the ball off right tackle for no gain but there was a penalty against the Wildcats for illegal roughness, this gave the Owls another first down. With first down and ten for a first down Finger made four yards off left tackle, on the next play a pass was incomplete and then Hartung gained one yard off right tackle. With fourth down and five Weynand punted. The Wildcats were unable to make a first down in three plays and punted on fourth down with nine yards to go for a first down. On the first play a pass

Mr. C. M. Maney and Mr. Haller were here from Natalia Tuesday and the former joined our corps of readers. Young Mr. Haller is a son of our long time friend, Alfonso (Mokey) Haller—a Democrat so democratic that he voted for Willkie in order to vote for a Democrat. Well, we didn't sulk, either.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Rodgers of Crystal City were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fly over the week-end. On Armistice Day Mr. Rodgers was one of the officials in the Hondo-Del Rio football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Schuehle of Corpus Christi spent the week-end and the holiday with their parents, Sheriff and Mrs. C. J. Schuehle and Mrs. Ione Crouch.

Mr. A. H. Sprenger and son, Albert Jr., were out from San Antonio Monday looking over their ranch interests in the northern part of the County.

Miss LaVerne Ulbrich, student nurse at Sealy Hospital, Galveston, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ulbrich.

D. G. Reitzer was a pleasant caller at this office Saturday.

was completed to Finger for a gain of two yards. Another pass was completed to Hartung which was good for ten yards and a first down, and on the next play Finger gained four yards outside left tackle, but there was a question on the play and the Wildcats were penalized fifteen yards for illegal roughness. This gave the Owls another first down. A pass was then incomplete and an off tackle play with Finger lugging the ball netted the Owls no yardage. A pass from Embrey to Hartung who went across the goal line gave the Owls another touchdown and Hartung converted for the extra point, which made the score twenty to nothing in favor of the Owls.

Hartung then kicked off to the Wildcats for the Owls and the Wildcats, in three plays with Tracy carrying the ball each time, made a first down, but on the following three plays they were unable to gain any yardage at all, and, with fourth down and ten yards to go for a first down, they punted. The Owls took the ball and Embrey took it off right tackle, but failed to gain any yardage, then Finger went around left end for a gain of fifteen yards and a first down, and on the following play Hartung failed to gain any yardage around right end. This ended the third quarter with the Hondo Owls still leading by a twenty to nothing score.

On the first play in the fourth quarter Embrey went outside right tackle but was downed two yards behind the line of scrimmage, on the following play Finger went outside tackle for a gain of eleven yards. With half a yard for a first down Embrey smashed through the center of the line and picked up one yard which was good for a first down. On the next play Finger went off left tackle and made one yard and on the following play Finger failed to pick up any yardage, a pass was incomplete and with fourth down and nine for a first down Weynand punted the ball. The Owls recovered the ball, Hollingsworth then threw a pass but it was intercepted and on the next play he again attempted to pass but fumbled and the Wildcats recovered the ball. The Wildcats punted on fourth down when they were unable to make a first down. Finger then failed to gain yardage on an end sweep and on the next play the Owls were penalized five yards for having a backfield man in motion. Weynand punted on second down with fifty yards to go for a first down. Rio took the ball and made a first down in two plays but failed to complete any passes in three plays and was forced to punt on fourth down. Hondo took the ball and on the first play Hartung made two yards through the center of the line and Finger picked up nine yards through right tackle for a first down. Hollingsworth then made five yards off right tackle and Hartung made three yards off left tackle but there was a penalty against Hondo for backfield motion which left the Owls second down and ten yards for a first down. Finger then made eight yards off left tackle and then he failed to make any yardage off right tackle, Finger then punted on fourth down. Del Rio took the ball and made fifteen yards on an off tackle play and a first down. This ended the game with the Owls winning their fourth conference game by a large margin, twenty points.

The Owls have one more conference game to play before they have won the North Zone of District 38. This game will be played against Sabinal on November 22.
